

3 CLERKS (Any ethnicity or gender, Supporting Role): Ultra hip, urbane record store employees that are dedicated music snobs & deeply apathetic about everything else

INT. CHOICE SIDES RECORD STORE - DAY

3 record store CLERKS stand near the front counter having a serious musical discussion. Amber approaches.

AMBER

Any of you know if you have an 45s from the 1960s?

CLERK

Sure. Only about a million. You want the Beatles or Chubby Checker?

AMBER

We'll actually looking for something pretty rare.

CLERK

Rare? Or Unknown? Let me guess, you need The Sloths' Makin' Love 7 inch? Wait. Wait! you want it in it's original picture sleeve too?!

AMBER

No. Southern garage rock. Or are you going to have to look that up?

CLERK

Ok. Sure. Turn around, walk back there, and take a look in those boxes your friend has been digging in for weeks.

AMBER

There is nothing in there earlier than 1979. I thought this store specialized in vintage vinyl. Where are the really old records or do you just have 20 copies of every Radiohead release?

(a beat)

CLERK

We ordered some stuff from a guy in Memphis. He might have something.

END SCENE